About

Results-driven professional with a diverse background in sales and operations. Proven ability to identify and close business opportunities while ensuring efficient and streamlined processes. Possessing a solid foundation in web development, I am now seeking a role that leverages my technical skills and experience, with a preference for roles that do not involve direct sales or cold calling. A dedicated and adaptable team player, I am eager to contribute to a dynamic work environment and drive organizational success through effective collaboration and problem-solving.
